

Sunday AUGUST 6, 2006 Last modified:

Wednesday, August 2, 2006 3:20 PM CDT

Reward offered

By KELSIE HAHN Daily Light intern

A reward of $25,000 has been offered by an anonymous donor for information leading to the safe return of Doris Phillips, the Reagor Springs woman reported missing last week.

Anyone with information about the case is asked to contact the Ellis County Sheriff's Office.

The investigation being conducted by the sheriff's office with the assistance of the Texas Rangers has been ongoing since Phillips was reported missing at 12:30 a.m. July 26.

"Right now, we're just following any kind of lead we get," said sheriff's Capt. Danny Williams, saying that rewards often produce important leads and information. He's hopeful that this will be such a case.

"It might help," he said, adding, "I hope it does."

Doris Phillips is 5 feet tall, weighs 118 pounds, has brown eyes, grey hair, glasses, and brown spots on her forehead. She was last seen by her family around 10 a.m. July 24, and spoke with one of her sons on the telephone at 10 a.m. July 25. Phillips lived alone, and her vehicle was found at her house on Old Church Road.

Anyone with information is asked to contact Williams or Lt. Clint Tims at (972) 937-6060.