FORT WORTH -- A 49-year-old financial planner missing since Jan. 13 was found dead in the back seat of his car Friday, family members and authorities said.

Kyle Marshall Morton died about 6:35 p.m. Friday, the victim of a self-inflicted gunshot wound, according to the Tarrant County medical examiner's office. His car was found in the 3800 block of West Rutledge Street, the examiner's Web site showed.

"He is with God," his father, Murray Morton, said Saturday.

Friends and family members were searching for Morton, and had passed out fliers and combed the neighborhoods near the medical district where someone reported seeing him on Jan. 20.
